Game Mode: Campaign Gameplay Setting: 1v1, last player survival. Play.com Rating: 8.1 (out of 10). Pre-Alpha Version - April 22, 2017 Game "Hide and Seek - Halo" Preview: Hide and Seek comes to Halo 5: Guardians and will be a free update for Xbox One and Halo 5: Guardians owners on Xbox Live with a patch available tomorrow, April 23, at 4 p.m. PT. Hide and Seek introduces two new maps: Forge - A forge world with combat and exploration elements Maple Springs - Similar to the game mode Assault/Infinity in its layout, featuring Tiberium, with sightline weapons. New Game Mode - Hide and Seek - Halo Hide and Seek is the first game mode to offer four unique, self-aware A.I. adversaries. Each of the four A.I. encounters has its own distinct strengths and weaknesses. Those unfamiliar with Halo multiplayer may need to invest in some training before they jump into Hide and Seek - Halo action. The trick is learning the nuances of each of the game's map elements, including death spawns, power weapons, and other unique weapons, and how to use them to your advantage. The focal point of the game mode is the unique Halo halo helmet item. Players earn halo helmets by earning kills and completing game objectives on the new Forge and Maple Springs maps. Completing each game mode will award players with a new halo helmet, allowing them to customize how their opponents perceive them. Players can instantly swap their halo helmets whenever they aren't holding a current one. The halo helmet also allows players to see their opponents' health bars by activating the halo by pressing the shoulder button. The halo helmet also has a number of other tools, including a proximity-based wall which the player can set to any map.
