Hourly Survey on Japan's Prison Invasions

Japan currently holds 44% of the world's prison population. A country which is home to 20% of the world's aged prisoners and is one of the world leaders in producing drug addicts.

Following the on-going construction of the Tokyo Detention Center which is planned to hold 13,000 prisoners, the Japanese government has begun to become aware of the issues surrounding prison invasions.

In recent years, primary schools and junior high schools in public schools have increasingly become central to this problem. Of the four primary schools in the Shinjuku ward of Tokyo, three (Hikarishosei, Sumiyoshosei, and Sumidachosei) have seen an increase in the rate of prison invasions, and this has led

Q: Cumulative distribution function of an exponential random variable I have a probability question that says: If X is an exponential random variable with the mean λ , find the cumulative probability function. I've checked this by drawing a graph of the density function, but I'm not sure how to obtain the cumulative function.

A: It's a $P(X \leq x)$. If it is of the form $P(X \leq x | X \geq a)$ we would have a derivative $\frac{\partial}{\partial x} P(X \leq x | X \geq a) = \lambda \cdot P(X \leq x | X \geq a)$ Since the exponential distribution is such that the density function is $f(x) = \lambda \cdot e^{-\lambda x}$ we have that $\frac{\partial}{\partial x} f(x) = -\lambda e^{-\lambda x} \cdot \lambda$ and thus the partial derivative of $f(x)$ with respect to x is given by $\frac{\partial}{\partial x} f(x) = \lambda^2 \cdot e^{-\lambda x}$ Therefore the cumulative function is given by $P(X \leq x) = 1 - e^{-\lambda x}$
