Improve your squad from over 300 unique players with elite, world-class managers like Jose Mourinho and Pep Guardiola. Build and manage a squad of over 40 players, compete in thrilling matches, earn FIFA Ultimate Team coins to spend in the marketplace, and compete for the FIFA 2M Trophy for the best overall squad. In My Opinion, FIFA 20 does not deserve any awards in the 5 year category although it does offer a lot of great new features. it is the best FIFA yet but maybe I am too used to the previous edition to make a fair evaluation of the game. FIFA 20 is really good and probably the best version of FIFA yet. There are a few flaws that could have been improved but it's as good as FIFA gets. Would definitely recommend FIFA 20 to anyone considering playing this game. - The game is the best of its kind - The graphics are beautiful - The game has no bugs so far and few issues and glitches - The gameplay is flawless - The game is pretty fun to play and challenging And of course FIFA 20 is the greatest game in the history of video games. It's funny how a game this good will get no awards but Blizzard's very similar card battler Hearthstone does, which is pretty weird. In FIFA 20, FIFA

Ultimate Team, and the gameplay the game really is a 10/10 but it's missing something, the graphics. The graphical leap with FIFA 20 is almost surprising, the story mode is amazing, Ultimate Team is really fun, it's a fantastic game but the graphics fall short in my opinion. So why is FIFA 20 not included in the best FIFA games list? FIFA has always been one of the most popular sports games and FIFA 20 promises to take what was already a great game and make it even better. My most favorite version of the game so far is FIFA 19 but it seems like this latest entry is the best of the best. But in my opinion, FIFA 19 and FIFA 18 are the best FIFA editions but of course, you can always pick up FIFA Ultimate Team and the amazing Career mode as DLC which is even better than the main game. The improvements this year makes the game even more fun. The graphics are much more improved and the controls are a bit easier and on top of that the soundtrack is better with many new songs added, FIFA 20 will be the best edition of FIFA yet. PS4 I believe that
