Q: Dojo's "autocomplete" itemTemplate attribute breaks dojox/mobile/Switch/Button I'm using dojox/mobile/Switch and dojox/mobile/TextBox widgets with the following HTML: The "itemTemplate" attribute breaks all the functionality of the "dojox/mobile/Switch" widget. If I remove "itemTemplate: '${value}%"' the widget works as expected. The documentation for dojox/mobile/Switch says this: "Item template is an expression with the following format: '${property}%"'. This is probably true for TextBox, but not for dojox/mobile/Switch. I'm not the only one who has had this problem. This is an example of some of the many questions on the topic: e79caf774b

Epididymal duct endodermis (EDE) plays a key role in the spermatozoa maturation and the residence of spermatozoa is a prerequisite to fertilization. This study evaluated the histomorphology of EDE cells in the caput, corpus and cauda epididymis of piglets aged 1, 4, 8, 12 and 16 weeks. This study demonstrated that both the lumen of the caput epididymal duct and the lumen of the caudal epididymal duct became progressively narrower with time from 1 to 16 weeks. No significant difference in the number of EDE cells between the 3 regions of the epididymis was observed in 1 and 4-week-old
