Suisun City/Fairfield Railway The Suisun City/Fairfield Railway was an independent shortline railway that served the Suisun Bay region of California, California, United States. History In 1981, the Suisun City/Fairfield Railway was founded as a common carrier railroad and built a line between Fairfield and Suisun. The railroad had a depot at the west end of Suisun. The railroad was built with the help of the Suisun City Council. The primary benefit of the railroad was for sugar beet growers, as they were able to move their crops to Fairfield. Construction began in 1982 and was completed in 1984. In 1985, the City of Fairfield, California purchased the railroad from its original owners, the City of Suisun and the Mt. View Company. The railroad was then shortened to and placed under the control of the City of Fairfield. The railroad was then renamed the City of Fairfield Railroad. The railroad was used for dump trains hauling trash to the dump for communities along the line, such
