For the first time in the history of the FIFA franchise, players will be able to take advantage of a realistic, complex set of Artificial Intelligence routines to create more responsive and authentic AI-controlled opposition. The new “AI Sticks” allow the FIFA 22 engine to react to the position of every single player on the pitch and place them into realistic, connected scenarios using a unique physics engine and wide variety of physics-based interactions. FIFA 22 also offers players several new training modes. The “Rookie Mode” will prepare players for the physical demands of competitive play. The innovative “Create A Player” mode lets players create their own player, create a team, and fill it out with players created by FIFA. In addition, players can try their hand at the new “Superstar Matchmaker” mode, which allows players to try their hand at finding the next top striker, midfielder or defender in the game. Features A GAME THAT REFLECTS THE GAME MODEL OF REAL WORLD FOOTBALL The FIFA team has been working towards this for years, but only in FIFA 22 can you truly experience the game in the way that it was designed. Every player on the field, every touch of the ball, every pass, every missed ball and every blocked shot is shown in the most realistic way possible in the game. It’s only possible because EA SPORTS created a custom-built engine that processes over 16 million squares of data in a single second. To put that into perspective, even on the most powerful PC there is less than five million squares of data processed in a second. As a result, every single thing happening on the pitch will be more responsive, and every play will be more realistic. This is the first time any sports game has been able to capture the game model of real world football. As a result, the game will never let you down. If you've just turned on the game, you'll immediately feel how every player is reacting to what's going on around them. Even if you missed a pass a few seconds ago, you'll notice how every player reacts to being left with the ball alone in front of the goal. It's not something that can be faked, every player will react the way they're programmed. Regardless of the time of day or weather condition, the game will feel as authentic as possible

FIFA is the worldwide leader in sports video games, and PlayStation 4 and Xbox One editions of the much-loved football franchise take players into the game with a number of innovative new features for the first time ever, along with true-to-life visuals, gameplay and a new soundtrack. Kicking Off Season 2018 The most defining year in the history of the game is now upon us, with a brand new set of rules, improvements to teams, stadiums and even the weather. Season 2018 sees the introduction of a brand-new attacking philosophy, with players following through on their passes to produce shots and finishing moves. New and Changed Rules: Long-distance chipping and lobbing have been reintroduced as a main area of development, with players able to use the ball with far more precision and space than ever before, with new customisation options for the feet, heads, post or wrists of chipped or lobbed balls. Tackling has been made harder in order to force players to physically be in the right position at the right time. Mid-foot and high-foot tackles now cause more damage, using the new 'Touch the Target' control system, but 'neutral' tackles can still be made, allowing for complicated multi-player challenges. No jumping in the air and no rolling will be allowed, with players becoming ruled out of the game if they are caught landing, and refereeing decisions are now made instantly, with more variety in penalties and decisions, such as goal-line clearances. The ball is now considered to be five centimetres bigger, which makes it more difficult to control and less likely to be scooped up by defenders. Kick-offs are now less predictable, and will be decided by both the defending and attacking teams after the ball has been delivered at the earliest opportunity by both teams. Goalkeepers can now be pushed out of their penalty area by attacking players, meaning they can leave the position to give their defence the chance to block a shot, or make themselves available to challenge. New Quality of Life features: Players can now change kits with the 'Kit selection' option when in possession, allowing for more customisation of their look. Players can now keep possession of the ball in mid-air, without dying, by tapping and holding their left trigger. Every shot, pass, dribble or overlap attempt can
