We have a bit of a peek under the hood on our staff here, so please come on in, grab a seat and we will get to know you. As you are reading this, you will see a few staff members and some moderators have their faces turned away from you. This is to try to stop those we call polly-pollies, from seeing who we are. Those of you who know us, will see who we are (and some who may not know us) and should have no problem knowing who's who. This is a lesson in anonymity to those who know what we know.
