After medals have been obtained for each song, when the folder is accessed again, TROOPERS will be available to play as the ONE MORE EXTRA STAGE with HARD forced on. Once TROOPERS is cleared on any difficulty, the first phase of the event ends, and TROOPERS can be played on the EXTRA STAGE. If you fail to clear TROOPERS, you will have to obtain the medals again before playing it. If medals are obtained for all four songs using the same conditions from phase 1, you can play MENDES as the ONE MORE EXTRA STAGE. Unlike TROOPERS, MENDES is not unlocked after it has been cleared, and you must obtain medals for the four songs again whenever you want to play it. Once medals are obtained for all four songs using the same conditions from phase 1, you can play MENDES as the ONE MORE EXTRA STAGE. Unlike TROOPERS, MENDES is not unlocked after it has been cleared, and you must obtain medals for the four songs again whenever you want to play it. Conversely, additional songs have been excluded from DJ

Troopers, such as Diamond Dust (which was available in all versions of Beatmania IIDX 16: Empress), Sweets of Rapture (which had been available as a free song in all previous Beatmania IIDXs prior to this title), and Eternal Life (which had been included in previous Beatmania IIDXs) via collaboration of Konami

Digital Entertainment's
Pop Culture Record label.

Numerous songs from previous styles have also been excluded from DJ

Troopers, such as Smooth Operator (which had been included in the first three Beatmania IIDXs prior to the new style), Box on the Run (which has been part of the latest Beatmania IIDXs released), La Di Da

(which had been the theme song for an early arcades game called Sensational and was later included in Beatmania IIDX while collaborating with the brand as the main theme song of DJ Superstar), and more. On a side note, there seems to be some foreign based online beatmania IIDX chat boards out there, most notably the one for the unreleased American version of beatmania IIDX 13. It seems the board has a pretty active community around beatmania IIDX and even has an online tournament. Beatmania IIDX 15 DJ TROOPERS was developed specifically for the Beatmania IIDX arcade, but it seems there is a crowd-sourced twitch channel that is playing the game from Japan.

Currently, they are playing through the Space Mambo stage of the game. To the best of my knowledge, only two Konami Online IIDX arcade versions are available for public release, the fan translation being the only one currently available in English. The arcades where the game is located seem to have very few online connections, so the availability of this fan translation release may not be due to the large amount of demand for the game. Although the game was widely anticipated by Konami's handheld fanbase, it was ultimately released to very limited consoles (NSW 6-pin). 5ec8ef588b
