through the omnidirectional technology, the seven laser lines are transformed into one, ensuring an exceptional scanning speed of 250 scans per second. the built-in decoding technology guarantees real-time scanning, allowing multiple read success rate, ensuring an unbeatable first read success rate. however, given that the vast majority of scanners are directed at hospitality and mobility, they are often operated where there is no professional team in place for remote monitoring. zebex is known as taiwan's leading manufacturer of biometric products. our products are sold in over 60 countries and territories. zebex is one of the few suppliers that can guarantee you a strict and effective quality management system that will ensure the quality, reliability, and safety of your system. we will provide you with a one-on-one solution when it comes to your needs for auto-id systems. zebex is an oem/odm supplier for many oem projects. the zebex z6170 driver comes with a library of supported certificate types, which can be downloaded and imported to the zebex z6170 driver. the library contains more than 1000 of the most popular login credential types and can be easily extended in-house or by just adding your own credentials. this driver works with applications such as applications for atms, cash registers, ivr, passenger check-in, mobile payment, self check-in, bank payment, medical check-in, price checking, and info kiosks. a firmware update is not required for devices that are deployed at the time of purchase. however, all drivers are shipped with firmware updates, which typically roll out 2-3 releases per month, but they can be downloaded and applied whenever you are ready.
