Each time you install Autodesk Products, an. Or you may have this problem: Xforce keygen. X-force Keygen & Activation X-Force Keygen is working. and .Q: Fundamental group of a subspace of S^2 Let X be a subspace of S^2 . Show that $\pi_1(X)$ is a subgroup of $\pi_1(S^2)$. I'm having trouble trying to understand the standard proof of this fact: An element of X has a homotopy lift to $\widetilde{S^2} \setminus \text{partial} \widetilde{S^2}$ by the universal property of the quotient space. The result follows from the fact that the inclusion $X \hookrightarrow S^2$ induces an injection on the fundamental groups, so that $H_1(X, \mathbb{Z}) \rightarrow H_1(S^2, \mathbb{Z})$ is an isomorphism. Could someone explain me why $H_1(X, \mathbb{Z}) \rightarrow H_1(S^2, \mathbb{Z})$ is an isomorphism? A: You can think of this problem in terms of covering spaces. The subspace X corresponds to the covering $p: \widetilde{S^2} \rightarrow S^2/X$, and the quotient space S^2/X corresponds to the universal cover $q: \widetilde{S^2} \rightarrow S^2/X$. The universal property of the universal cover says that q restricts to a covering $q|_X: \widetilde{S^2} \setminus \text{partial} \widetilde{S^2} \rightarrow S^2/X$. Since $q|_X$ is a covering, it must be a homeomorphism. Now, S^2/X is path-connected (because it is the image of a path-connected space under a continuous map), so $H_1(S^2/X) = 0$, and it follows that $H_1(\widetilde{S^2} \setminus \text{partial} \widetilde{S^2}) = 0$. Thus, p must be a
